CATTLEMEN'S MEETING: Specialists Will Address County Association

Two livestock specialists from the University of California will address the San Mateo County Cattlemen's Assn. May 28 at its meeting in San Gregorio, officers of the organization announced.

G. E. Gordon, extension specialist in dairying, and Vard Sheppard, specialist in beef, hogs and sheep, will address the San Mateo County stockmen.

Faced with a shortage of protein concentrate feeds, the association members will also co-operate with the San Mateo County Agricultural Conservation Office in Half Moon Bay to assure small buyers their fair share of available supplies.

W. P. Wing, secretary of the California Woolgrowers Assn., will give the association full details on laws enacted to protect livestock owners from depredations of stray dogs.

In a bulletin to the membership, Manuel Piers, of Portola, acting president of the association in place of George Borell, president, on leave of absence for duty with the Volunteer Port Security Force in San Francisco, pointed out that cattle thefts apparently have ceased.

"It is gratifying to note," said Piers, "that through the joint efforts of our members, as well as the cattle theft committee from the board of directors, much good work has been done to give this county practically a clean record on proven thefts since the organization of our association."

The San Gregorio meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m.

T. N. Thompson Selects USO Chairmen

The first meeting of the Redwood City U.S.O. Executive Committee was held last Friday in the offices of the American Trust Co.

Chmn. T. N. Thompson appointed the following committee chairmen: C. C. Armstrong, business and finance; Mrs. Wendell Ebner, club management; Mrs. Vera Liguori, public information; and Mrs. Manah Dixon, programs.

Mrs. Thomas Cutting, assistant chairman, reported that activities at the Redwood City U.S.O. remained favorable in the month of April, during which 2800 service men were entertained.

Firemen Fight 3 Grass Fires

Personnel shortages and the extremely dry season this year are creating a double fire hazard which is causing concern among members of the city and county fire departments. Possibility of placing a lookout on duty June 1 this year instead of July 1 is being discussed in the county fire warden's office, it was announced this week.

No damage was reported from a grass fire which took the city fire department out at 2:40 Saturday afternoon to Bayshore Hwy. and Rogers St.

Two week-end brush fires handled by the county fire department necessitated calling in men on their day off. Yesterday afternoon a blaze at the Hirschey Ranch, west of Skyline Blvd. about a mile west of the Sky-Londa fire station, burned over about an acre of brush land in the canyon before it was extinguished, firemen said. It started from a brush pile which was being burned, they said.

Saturday, a fire on property of the Millbrae Dairy on Skyline Blvd. south of Millbrae Ave., evidently kindled by careless horseback riders, firemen said, burned over a half-acre of leaf-mold and underbrush in a eucalyptus grove.

Fire in an undermatting of grass of the two previous seasons burned through a quarter-acre of this year's stand of green grass on Scenic Dr. in the Palomar Park district Friday, county firemen reported. The same afternoon three grass fires within the city limits kept Redwood City firemen occupied most of the afternoon, leaving the city only partially protected during that time, according to fire officials.

About 100,000 women are employed in U.S. banks.

Casaretto Trial Set for May 16

May 16 is the date set for the trial of the $7500 OPA treble damage case against Louis Casaretto, owner of the Redwood Meat Co., 1634 Main St. Casaretto asked for and was granted a jury trial. He will be tried before Federal Dist. Judge Louis Goodman.

Cited in the complaint are transactions in which Casaretto allegedly sold meat at above-ceiling prices.

Casaretto was fined $850 in federal court in January on charges of failing to register as a wholesale meat dealer and making sales over established ceiling prices. In the criminal complaint sales to Nipa Hut, 2550 El Camino Real, Wimpy's, 2047 Broadway and the Orpheum Cafe, Palo Alto, at prices above the ceiling were cited. These transactions are included in the civil suit now pending, as well as other overcharges which the OPA claims will be established when the case comes to trial.

M. Anderson Thomas of San Francisco is representing Casaretto.

Mrs. Helen Leahy Wins Divorce Decree

Mrs. Helen Harding Leahy was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in superior court here from John W. Leahy, member of the Charles Leahy Distributing Co. of San Mateo.

Mrs. Harding was awarded custody of the couple's two children, John W. Jr. and David. Mrs. Harding was granted $100 a month for her support and $150 a month for the support of the children. She originally had sued for separate maintenance. She stated in her suit that Leahy earned in excess of $500 a month.

Mrs. Chappell Despondent Over Health

Laying the blame on despondency over ill health, Mrs. Marian Chappell, 40 Upland Dr., Woodside, Tuesday committed suicide by shooting herself in the head with a .32 caliber revolver.

The body was found by a maid who came in to clean up the room in a San Francisco hotel where Mrs. Chappell had taken a room Monday night. Mrs. Chappell was already dead when the maid came in at 11:15 but no shot had been heard during the night.

Mother of two children, Mrs. Chappell was the wife of Submarine Lt. Comdr. Lucius H. Chappell, hero of the Pacific, who once lay at the bottom of a Japanese harbor and listened to an entire Japanese task force pass over and another time, with his crew, watched a ball game through the periscope while laying submerged in the Tokyo harbor.

Commander Chappell had just returned from Pacific duty and had spent a few days with his family in Woodside before reporting to Portsmouth, N. H., for further assignment.

Sealed letters addressed to her husband at Portsmouth, to her children and to the manager of the hotel were left by Mrs. Chappell. They were headed Woodside, indicating that they were written some time before she took her life.

An open letter, addressed "to whom it may concern," read:

"I am taking my life after careful thought and deliberation. I am aware of a fatal illness. . . ."

Ernest Peterson, hotel manager who identified the body, said that the Chappells were frequent guests at the hotel and that Mrs. Chappell had called last week to reserve a room for herself and her daughter.

When she came on Monday evening, she was alone but seemed cheerful, Peterson declared. He added that Mrs. Chappell had sometimes worked in Bay Area shipyards during her husband's absence.

Commander Chappell has been awarded the Navy Cross and last year, was credited with 13 "kills."

Belgium, with a population of 8,500,000 and an area of 11,755 square miles, is one of the most densely populated and highly industrialized countries in the world.

Board Backs Proposition 1

Sounty Assessor Martin Flynn and the Redwood City-San Carlos Menlo Park Real Estate Board Tuesday urged voters to stamp a "yes" vote on Proposition 1 on the May 16 ballot. It would eliminate from the State Constitution a prohibition against taxation of federally owned lands.

Flynn poiated out that the amendment was sponsored by assessors throughout the state because of a citical condition resulting from wholesale land purchases by the federal government.

Ninety per cent of the area of Alpine County is federally owned, State Board of Equalizatilon statistics show.

In San Mateo County as of Sept. 1 the federal government owned 1394 acres, all of which was taken off the tax rolls.

The real estate board met Monday. Approximately 20 members attended.

In addition to indorsing Proposition 1, the realtors followed the lead of the California Real Estate Assn. by committing themselves to active support of the Fifth War Loan.

The realtors passed a resolution requiring all members to offer for sale only signed listings, either exclusive or open. Officers of the board explained that this means that the seller will be required to name a price for his property and accept that price if a buyer is obtained.

Ryan, Mack Delegates To JCC Conference

Eighteen people from Redwood City attended the four-day third annual State War Conference of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Santa Cruz last week. John Ryan and John Mack were official delegates from the Redwood City chapter, and they were accompanied by Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Mack.

J. Roger Deas of San Francisco was elected state president of the organization, and plans for the coming year's activities were framed. Business sessions were held at the Civic Auditorium and social events at the Palomar Hotel.

Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McCue, Mr. and Mrs. A. McGovern, Mr. and Mrs. William Morrissey, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hinman, Mr. and Mrs. N. Hedge, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. S. Ratliff.

Shaw Declares S.C. Center Of Recreation a Success

The San Carlos Recreation Commission added a "feather to its cap" at its meeting at the recreation center this week, when Ralph Shaw, director, announced that San Carlos had served more children and adults at its center than any other similar organization on the Peninsula and that Santa Cruz and Salinas had asked for an outline of methods used in San Carlos.

Shaw, just back from a meeting of Santa Clara and San Mateo County directors, announced that plans for the summer program were to have general supervision of the play areas without a great deal of pre-arranged program.

The meeting, attended by a record crowd, was presided over by Franklin Duxbury. Duxbury emphasized the need for recreation centers in pointing out that fathers are being called up for military service and it is the responsibility of the citizens and the commission to take their places in supervising recreation for their children.

H. J. Levis spoke at the meeting, and asked for more recreational facilities for people over fifty years old.

Shaw submitted the plans for this summer to the commission and explained that, beside the regular athletics, there will be tumbling and boxing exhibits in the amphitheater at night and that community singing is being arranged. Plans are also being made for craft classes to be held in the kindergarten room and court at the San Carlos school. Folk dancing and dramatics classes will be given and social dancing groups will meet every Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lois Hausladen will have charge of the girls' activities and Mrs. Helen MacKay will supervise the small play areas five days a week from 10 to 12 in the morning beginning June 1.

The question of lavatories in the small play area which was brought up before the city council at the last meeting has been held over for further investigation and would probably come up this Thursday, the commission learned.

Representatives of organizations who attended the meeting included the following: PTA, Mrs. A. W. Ends; Girl Scouts, Mrs. S. S. Wemett, Miss Louise Stiles, executive secretary and Miss Edna Forward, field director.

Committee members included Ralph Shaw, Charles Thomas, G. C. Hallawell, L. B. Waters and Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn. Patrick Kearns, new commissioner of safety and health, was not present.

Hillsborough Wardens Receive Awards

Forty-eight Hillsborough air raid wardens received awards in recognition for 500 hours served when senior wardens of the town gathered at Hillsborough City Hall for a round table discussion of the new civilian defense rules, effective soon.

The awards consisted of a service ribbon and a parchment scroll, given by the city, and representatives of each air raid district carried his own sector's awards back to their recipients. The meeting was called by Chief of Police Walter Wisnom who was assisted in the discussion by Sidney Miller, assistant chief air raid warden.

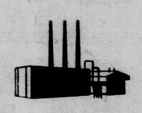
how NATURAL GAS helps CONSERVE Oil for War Use



Pacific Gas and Electric Company is now burning natural gas fuel instead of oil in its steam electric plants—to make available over 10,000,000 barrels of oil a year needed by the armed forces and war industries.

In cooperation with the oil companies, and at the request of the Navy, a large gas transmission pipeline has been converted to the transportation of oil from distant fields to San Francisco Bay. This has speeded the safe delivery of 55,000,000 barrels of oil a year and released a large tanker and escort fleet for other war purposes.

To help meet the needs for conservation of oil in-war busy California, the reserve supply of natural gas has been drawn on very heavily. For example, this year the draft on the Rio Vista dry gas field alone will be 160,000,000,000 cubic feet. This amount is equal to the needs of 200,000 families for 16 years. And every 6000 cubic feet of this gas, when it replaces oil, releases a barrel of petroleum for war use.

Eugene Folsom New Inspector For Menlo

MENLO PARK — Eugene Folsom, veteran building contractor, was Tuesday appointed by the Menlo Park City Council as the new city building inspector, a post left vacant following the recent resignation of John B. Glunz. Police Chief Thomas Kearney had been acting building inspector until last night's appointment was made.

The need for active building inspection was emphasized when the case involving the property of Mrs. Mary Ponzini, 1055 Evelyn Ave., again came up for discussion.

Following a brief review of the matter by Emil Stein, county health officer who originally found Mrs. Ponzini's apartment building "unfit for habitation," the council recommended that a plan of reconstruction be submitted by Mrs. Ponzini within 30 days.

Reconstruction plans thus submitted must provide for making the building meet minimum requirements under health and safety codes, the council said. Should such plans not be submitted by Mrs. Ponzini, City Atty. James O'Keefe stated "appropriate action will be taken and no further extensions granted."

In addition to the appointment of Mr. Folsom the council also made one new appointment and two re-appointments to the city planning commission. Reappointed were Comsrs. Wallace Ott and John A. Sullivan, whose terms expired May 3. The new appointee is Maurice Moonitz, Stanford economics instructor.

Heading several communications received by the council was a petition of 33 residents of the Menlo Park Terrace section protesting the erection in their area of a commercial nursery. The matter was referred to the planning commission for its next meeting.

A second letter received by the council contained the resignation of Mrs. Gardner Callo as head of the Menlo Park salvage drive. Upon the suggestion of Councilman Charles Burgess the resignation is being turned over to the Menlo Park War Council since Mrs. Calio's appointment had been made through that body.

Each of the councilmen except Roy Grey, who was absent, introduced new business. Mr. Burgess, commissioner of streets, led off with an announcement that a forward step toward remedying the troublesome street situation has been made with the appointment of an investigating committee to help him in designing an adequate street program.

The committee will investigate methods of street maintenance in other cities the size of Menlo Park. The group is particularly interested in the Stanford Park situation and at present, is undecided whether to recommend construction of permanent streets in that area or streets which will last until the wars end and which will be replaced at that time with permanent ones.

Members of Mr. Burgess' committee are James Armstrong, Paul Bryant, Julius Gensler, T. Harvey and R. N. Hipp.

The hazards faced by pedestrians in walking along dark roads to Dibble General Hospital were once again brought up at a council meeting. This time it was Councilman Brown who suggested that greater efforts be made to push the building of a pedestrian walk to keep people off the road.

It was pointed out that the territory in question is outside Menlo Park jurisdiction and that the County and Army authorities have refused to expend money on the proposed walk. Mr. Brown then told the council that he would discuss the matter with the Lion's Club at present conducting an investigation regarding the possibility of raising funds for the walk through public solicitation Brown declared earnestly "it is better that every effort and expense be made now rather than have one death because we failed to do anything."

Atherton Officer Shot in Right Leg

Downing C. Poston, 23, 62 Clinton St., was shot through the calf of the right leg Monday when his 38-caliber revolver was accidentally discharged, Police Chief James Farrell of Atherton said today.

Poston, a police officer at Atherton, had car trouble as he was returning home. He stopped on El Camino Real and got out to investigate. As he was taking off his Sam Brown belt so he could work more freely, Farrell said, the gun slipped from its holster, discharging as it struck the pavement. He was taken to Palo Alto Hospital by Fire Chief M. E. Ryan, who happened to be passing.

The injured policeman is a former Sequoia High School student and has just recently been added to the Atherton police force.

Joseph Fuentes Continues To Improve

No complications have developed in the case of Joseph Fuentes, and his progress is reported satisfactory by Dr. Ralph D. Howe, his attending physician.

Fuentes' right leg was severed and he sustained a skull fracture May 1 when he fell under a Southern Pacafic train as it left the station. He had grasped the grabiron after running out of the depot, and lost his hold when the train got underway, newsboys on the platform said.

He was arrested by Redwood City police at 10:45 last night when the car which he was driving struck another machine parked in front of 2030 Broadway, police said.

SAN MATEO COUNTY HAS GROWN UP

Ten years ago San Mateo County had less than 80,000 people. Today it has more than 150,000 and still is growing.

From a so-called "cow" county we have become an important part of a great metropolitan area—gateway to the vast Pacific trading centers of tomorrow.

What are we doing to be ready?

Will we stand independent and resolute, cloaked in our own identity and prepared to participate with our neighbors in this great development, or—

Will we be gobbled up in the march of progress after victory ,and play a minor and unimportant role in the picture of tomorrow?

THIS DEPENDS ON OUR COUNTY OFFICIALS

Our people are not so much interested now in what has gone before, but they are deeply interested in what lies ahead. San Mateo County HAS grown up. The days of feudalism, petty politics and personalities in government are gone forever.

When our service men and women return to resume their roles in civilian life, will we be prepared to offer them honorable opportunity, or a street corner from which to sell apples?

The post-war problem is not entirely a national or state problem, but one for each community. What has San Mateo County done in preparation for this uncertain time?

Let's stop playing around with destiny, and GET DOWN TO BUSINESS! Big men in county government can help accomplish big things for San Mateo County.

Next Tuesday we select a supervisor to represent the Third District on the county board. Let's get off to a real start by selecting an experienced, well-trained and capable public official—who is also a successful business man, familiar with San Mateo County, its problems today and tomorrow—a man whose record reveals his character and integrity to be above reproach; but, most important, a man of vision who is looking ahead to a greater county, in which our industrial areas will be geared to the future, while our home communities will be protected and developed for the raising of happy families, with every advantage, to dwell in peace and security.

ELECTION ON MAY 16, 1944

COMMUTERS: Din, Stairs Disturbing in New Home

BY JOE CABOOSE

We're having a terrible time grinding out today's column. It's all due to the strange new environment in which we find ourselves . . . that rarefied atmosphere of Brewster Ave.! Already we're a little homesick for 1166 Clinton St. There was a place! We knew every lightswitch in the dark. And the whole layout on one floor! Over here we have stairs to fall down yet. We did that too . . . the first night out. Little Jimmy sensed the new environment and woke up screaming. We started for his bedside to chase the goblins away. The boys' room is to the right, the stairs to the left. We made the wrong turn. The added attraction of 190 lbs. rolling down stairs gave Jimmy a real case of heebie jeebies, along with four other people. Fortunately the stairs were upholstered . . . but there was no bounce to the landing.

But getting back to the difficulties of writing the column . . . We artists are temperamental and react to the slightest change of environment. At 1166 Clinton we would hole up in our favorite corner of the living room, after the family had retired, and write our column in peace and quiet. Our street dead-ended at Oak, and there was no traffic. Here at Brewster we're in an upstairs den, very comfy to be sure but everything left-handed and strange,—and enough automobile traffic to arouse the suspicions of the OPA. Every once in awhile there's a terrific screaching of brakes when a driver discovers there are cross streets on Brewster.

Then, while we're indulging this nostalgie spree, we might as well shoot the piece and complain that there are some new and strange pieces of furniture in the house, and by the same token some of our dear old friends, a little shoddy and worn but still comfortable and intimate, have been shunted off to the garage, or worse—to the scrappile. We don't make new friends easily . . . especially when it comes to furniture. The nerve of these new, sissified and impudent chairs trying to take the place of the loyal old friends who have rested our tired bones with such easy grace all these years!

Our favorite piece—and the thing that really broke our heart—was an old day bed on which we used to sneak 40 winks every Saturday and Sunday during the good old days. Our poor old d.b. couldn't qualify for the living room at the new place, so we begged for a spot in the dining room. But there was no sale on that, and of course it was too big for the kitchen. So we followed it tearfully to the garage where, hereafter, we will be found at siesta time, if any.

We just have a hunch we're not going to be allowed to sit out on the front steps in our bare feet anymore either. Our suspicions were aroused when he attended our first party in the neighborhood last Tuesday night. Our war dep't not only made us wear shoes, but insisted that we also wear a shirt. (In Alabama when we dressed formal like that we usually carried our gold-plated brass knuckles!)

Among the guests were such people as "Thelmer" K. Ross, Wrex Cruse, Lloyd Liebman, Clarence Brizee, Chester Armstrong, Paul Allen, Ray Cereghino, Bert Conroy, John Clarke, Tom Cutting, Bill Dobbyn, Tom Giannini, Hugh McKenna, Jack Welch, Lou Winkenwerder and Ross Winchester. Very ordinary people, for the most part. None of them ate their potato chips with a knife, but many of them drank with their left hand. Also with their right. Left, right! Left, right! Until quite late we might add. Bill Curran, at whose house the party was held, and Stan Perkins, who was a co-host, were also there.

It was really a directors' meeting of the Commuters Club, at which Curran and Perkins were singing their swan songs as directors. A couple of non-directores in the neighborhood—like Cruse and Cutting—heard the singing and dropped in for a chorus. After a delicious buffet supper was enjoyed, the directors got down to some serious business. Past-president Cruse, who offered the boys the benefit of his experience, had a little trouble keeping them on the table. Elmer Ross complained that the concrete floor in Curran's patio would round off the corners.

Now for the mail bag . . . We had a nice letter from Lt. Col. Harry C. Day, one of our most distinguished Commuter charter members "on leave" to the armed forces, now stationed near Corvallis, Ore., after a long tour of duty in the Aleutians. Colonel Harry was kind enough to say that he enjoys our Caboose columns, (which Mrs. Day mails him) and he hopes we do not keep our threat to "quit writing them." His letter concludes, "That column of yours . . . affords not only me, but a good number of GI's, many a laugh!" (Thank you, Colonel Day, that may get us an increase in salary!)

Another fine letter was received from Mrs. Richard (Tess) tum Suden, from Deep Well Ranch, Palm Springs, where she has been convalescing from a recent automobile accident. She thanked us for our sympathetic mention in a recent column, and asked that we be not too hard on the sick committee for his dereliction. She said: "If you could have seen me while in the hospital, you could understand why Bill preferred to go to the races."

A third letter, which will be treasured and preserved in Communter Club records after it is read to the membership at the regular meeting next Thursday night, was written by Pres. Sid Herkner of the Kiwanis Club expressing that organization's deep sympathy over the passing of John Brand, president nominee of the Commuters Club. That gesture will be sincerely appreciated by every commuter and friend of John Brand.

Meditations during a recent memorial service for the late Russel Fox . . . "Am I really worth the sacrifice this brave young lad made for me? His death—and the death of thousands like him—imposes a frightful obligation upon me. It is a challenge, to me personally, to do everything within my power, as a citizen and a voter, to see that the things he gave his life for, are preserved in ths country forever. It is my personal responsibility to see that this young man did not die in vain. O Lord, give me strength that I may not fail this sacred trust!"

Woman Wins Quick Divorce From Officer

Mrs. Maebelle Carlin, 39 Humboldt St., Burlingame, Monday was granted a quick interlocutory decree of d-vorce from George J. Carlin, a warrant officer in the navy.

Mrs. Carlin was awarded custody of the couple's three children, Dorann, 8; Georgia, 6, and Ronald, 4, and $100 monthly support. The couple was married May 28, 1932, and separated Jan. 1, 1944. Mrs. Carlin charged her husband with extreme cruelty.

Forms Not Ready Yet For Victory Gardeners

Mrs. Nelle L. Miramontes, city tax collector, has announced that forms are not yet available for prospective victory gardeners who expect to take advantage of the water rebate approved for this year by the city council.

Many applicants have appeared at the water department office to request the blanks which must be filled out at the beginning of the season if the rebate is to be received. Mrs. Miramontes said she requests those who are planning victory gardens to wait until announcement that forms are available, thus saving their own time as well as that of employes in the department, and in some cases, rationed gasoline.

Plans are being made for handling the victory garden water rates under almost the same rulings as last year, City Mgr. Robert W. Mead said. However, necessary affidavits for the rebates must be presented before Dec. 1 this year in order to secure the refund. No time limit was set last year. Consequently, he said, clerks in the water department office have to devote part of their time to the transactions involved in making the water refunds. When the mechanics of handling the rebates are complete, details will be announced.

Spreckles Sell Hillsborough Home

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spreckles have sold their Hillsborough residence on Willow Rd. near the Burlingame Country Club to Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Ryan for $29,000, it was disclosed with the recording of a deed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice.

Spreckles is a naval flying instructor stationed in Florida. His wife is the former Theo Taft Brown.

Ryan is a member of the firm of Joslyn & Ryan, naval architects. The Ryans are owners of the Sequoia and Monterey Colonial apartment houses in Baywood.

C. G. Uhlenberg Wins Hillsborough Contract

Contract for the audit of the City of Hillsborough was awarded to C. G. Uhlenberg of Redwood City when the city council gathered for a brief session Monday afternoon at City Hall.

This marks the second year that Uhlenberg will audit the Hillsborough records. He also received the contract to audit San Mateo books this year. No other important business came before the group and they adjourned after a brief session, to meet again June 5.

S.F. Man Buys R.C. Building

Samuel Caravelli, San Francsico cigar store owner, has purchased the business property on the northeast corner of El Camino Real and Broadway at a price of $72,500, his attorney, Ray E. Montrose, San Francisco, declared Tuesday.

The property, part of the holdings of Pacific States Savings and Loan Co., went on the block in the court of Superior Judge Elmer E. Robinson Monday. The Redwood City sale was the highest made and brought a price in excess of those submitted for approval by State Bldg. and Loan Comsr. Frank C. Mortimer, according to an Associated Press release.

The building sold includes from the Redwood Barber Shop, 2660 Broadway down to Musso Drug Co. and on El Camino Real to Hoeffler's Realty.

Caravelli is proprietor of a cigar store at 2293 Chestnut St. on the Marina in San Francisco. It is believed that he purchased the building for investment purposes.

Marine insurance is believed to have had an earlier origin than life insurance.

State C. of C. Elects Adrien J. Falk

Adrien J. Falk, vice president and general manager of S. & W. Fine Foods Ins., since 1930, has been elected to membership on the California State Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, it was announced Monday. The announcement was made following the annual membership meeting of the state chamber Sunday. Falk is president of the San Francisco chamber.

Cyril Peterman In New Position

Cyril Peterman, who has been in charge of the Sprouse-Reitz Co. store at 2623 Broadway since January, 1943, will be associated with the Western 5 and 10 as manager of the firm's retail store at 1252 Polk St. in San Francisco after May 15. His new position will not take him away from Redwood City, however, as his residence will continue to be 646 Whipple Ave., where he lives with his wife and 6-month-old son.

Head office of the Western 5 and 10, which has retail stores throughout the Bay Area, is in Berkeley. The firm has plans for postwar expansion after the war, Peterman says.

Peterman was associated with the Sprouse-Reitz Co. for 6½ years. He was with the firm in Monterey and Campbell before coming to Redwood City. The company operates in six Western states.

Peterman is secretary of the Merchants' Committee of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Service Men Are Dreaming Post-War Plans

Thousands of young American men are going to come back to peacetime America with broader vision, bigger ideas, more ambition . . . and plans. The war will give them perspective—a chance to look at themselves—to think—to dream.

They plan to come back and start their own little businesses, many of which will grow into big businesses. They may be only buck privates in the war, but they will be post-war captains and generals of industry in the best sense of those terms. They will help America prosper, and they will make jobs for thousands of their fellow Americans.

America should root for them and help them realize their dreams.

Little Bits of J-M History

Johns-Manville, itself, is a good example of what one man's dreams can do for a country.

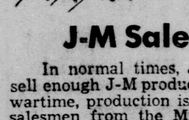
H. W. Johns, founder of Johns-Manville, started 'way back in 1858 to search for suitable ingredients for roofings and insulating materials. He tried everything from flour to sawdust before he hit on the idea that asbestos would turn the trick, for fireproof roofings as well as a lot of other things.

With one helper Mr. Johns invented the new roofing himself, by putting jute, burlap, woolfelt, pitch, manila paper and asbestos through a clothes wringer.

Many large American industries started from small beginnings like this. Today J-M employs 14,000 people, and makes about 1200 products. Right now it is devoting itself almost exclusively to war work.

J-M Insulation Tops at Top of The World

On the air route to China, American cargo planes are ferrying supplies across the Himalaya mountains—sometimes called the "ceiling of the world." At such high altitudes it is colder than blazes, and crews and planes need insulating protection. So, J-M Stonefelt Insulation—made of specially-treated mineral fibres—is employed because of its light weight, its resistance to fire and because it will not settle, even under extreme vibration. Stonefelt is used to insulate the pilot's compartment, oil lines and parts of the warm air ducts.



J-M Salesmen Pinch Hit

In normal times, J-M salesmen cover the country to sell enough J-M products to keep the factories busy. But in wartime, production is the big problem, so a bunch of J-M salesmen from the Middle Atlantic area recently put on overalls and reported to the Manville (N. J.) plant to help out on the manual job of keeping production rolling.

Julia gives 5 tasty ways to use bacon

BACON! What a joy to have plenty of it available! And you know, bacon has many fine uses for lunch and dinner, in addition to time-honored "bacon for breakfast." Here are some suggestions which I hope you'll try:

BACON AND VEGETABLE PLATE

1 lb. bacon
6 tomato halves
1 head cauliflower
Green beans
¼ cup bacon drippings
1 tbsp. vinegar
¼ tsp. paprika
Salt and pepper

Broil bacon until evenly crisped. At the same time place tomatoes in the broiling oven, dot with butter or margarine, and heat. Cook cauliflower and green beans separately in boiling salted water. Make Savory Dressing: Melt bacon drippings, add vinegar and paprika. To serve, arrange cauliflower in center of platter and top with Savory Dressing. Alternate green bean bundles and tomato halves around cauliflower. Border with slices of bacon.

BACON CORNMEAL MUFFINS

1½ cups enriched flour, sifted
¾ cup yellow cornmeal
1 tbsp. baking powder
¾ tsp. salt
2 tbsps. sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk
¼ cup melted bacon fat
6 slices cooked bacon, chopped

Sift and mix all dry ingredients together. Combine beaten eggs, milk and melted bacon fat, add to dry ingredients with chopped cooked bacon, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 8 muffins.

LIMA BEAN & BACON CASSEROLE

2 cups lima beans (dry)
Salt and pepper
1 cup tomatoes
½ large onion
6 slices bacon

Soak lima beans, then simmer until tender. Season with salt, pepper, add tomatoes and finely chopped onion and place in a 2 qt. casserole. Add strips of bacon over the top and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes.

Serves 5 to 6.

BACON-CORN PUDDING

4 strips bacon
3 tbsps. bacon fat
3 tbsps. enriched flour
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. white pepper
1 tbsp. sugar
1½ cups milk
2 cups whole kernel corn
2 eggs, beaten

Fry bacon crisp, and crumble. Stir flour, salt, white pepper and sugar into bacon fat. Add milk slowly, cooking over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Stir in corn, beaten eggs and crumbled bacon. Fill 6 greased baking cups, set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes.

Serves 6.

CAULIFLOWER WITH BACON SAUCE

1 lb. bacon
2 cups white sauce
Seasoning
1 head cauliflower

Broil or fry 7 slices of bacon until crisp. Cut in tiny pieces; add to white sauce (combine ¼ cup enriched flour and ¼ cup bacon fat, and add 2 cups milk). Season with salt and pepper and pour over whole cooked head of cauliflower on chop plate. Serve garnished with the additional slices of crisp bacon.

Serves 6.
